Important note: The Judicial Portal was initially created for members of the judiciary only. In May 2004 access to the Portal was extended to all members of the IUCN Commission on Environmental Law (CEL), in addition to members of the judiciary. Applications will only be accepted from judges – CEL members have access via their ‘CEL Members Portal’ password. Judgements in the field of environmental law will however be made available to everyone through the publicly accessible site known as ECOLEX, ‘The Gateway to Environmental Law’, a joint initiative of FAO, IUCN and UNEP. You will find ECOLEX at: www.ecolex.org

If you are a member of the judiciary and would like to participate in the Judicial Portal, please provide the information requested on the other side of this page and forward it to:
