

A WETLANDS CORRIDOR IN THE PARANÁ RIVER

26 June 2003

Authorities of Fundación Proteger, an IUCN member, met with Dr Alejandro Iza from the IUCN-ELC to discuss the recent developments towards establishing a wetlands corridor in the Paraguay-Paraná rivers. This Corridor, an initiative of Fundación Proteger, is supported by WWF, Wetlands International and the Ramsar Bureau. It comprises the Argentinian provinces of Corrientes, Chaco, Entre Ríos, Formosa, Misiones and Santa Fé. Proteger is organising the International Conference on Wetlands Management in the Americas which will take place in Paraná, Entre Ríos in September 2003, which the IUCN-ELP will be attending.

For further information about this event please consult <http://www.proteger.org.ar>